

September at the Library

From Pitch to Print

In this workshop, Alethea Pape, a freelance journalist, will outline the life of a single article from development to readers hands. You will view examples of pitches for story ideas, view segments of a local government meeting, view samples of drafts (including mistakes), and see the finished copy. This workshop is intended for everyone. Some topics may not be of interest to younger audiences. Students of journalism are strongly encouraged. Everyone is welcome; regardless of affiliation. Every voice counts. Tuesday, September 27, 6:00-7:00 pm

Bilingual Storytime

Join us for stories and songs in Spanish and English! Intended for preschoolers and their families. Every Tuesday in September at 5:30 pm

Basic Technology

Tired of being frustrated with technology? The library is offering weekly classes on Thursday evenings. Topics include mobile devices, internet safety, and avoiding misinformation. For full list of topics by date click here.

Fine Amnesty Month

Do you have a long overdue book hiding under your couch? Bring it in and we will remove the overdue charges!
